June 27, 2021 The Thirteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Our second collection this weekend goes to Peter's Pence to support the works of the Holy Father, Pope Francis.

I join all of our parish church members in giving thanks to God for the ministry of Deacon Clay and Megan. We have been immensely blessed to have had them with us for the last four years. I am very grateful for Deacon Clay's ministry to our youth and for his leadership of our Maintenance Committee. He has showed a strong care for our young people, whether training them as altar servers or encouraging our parent youth ministers. It was also very reassuring to know that our facilities would always be cared for. The ministry of the permanent diaconate is usually a husband-and-wife one. Accordingly, I am grateful to Megan for identifying a need in attending to families in grief and establishing Martha's Ministry. Megan also has been the person scheduling our liturgical ministers, making sure that we have always had Lectors and Communion Ministers to help us worship God. We know that they will be as great a blessing for St Pius X Church in Beaumont as they have been for us.

June 29 is the Solemnity of the Apostles, Saint Peter and Saint Paul.
 "This day has been made holy by the passion of the blessed apostles Peter and Paul. We are therefore, not talking about some obscure martyrs. These martyrs realized what they taught: they pursued justice, they confessed the truth, they died for it. Both apostles share the same feast day, for these two were one; and even though they suffered on different days, they were as one. Peter went first, and Paul followed. And so we celebrate this day made holy for us by the apostles' blood. Let us embrace what they believed, their life, their labors, their sufferings, their preaching and their confession of faith."
 - from a sermon by Saint Augustine, in The Liturgy of the Hours

What does the Catechism teach?

"Jesus accompanies his words with many 'mighty works and wonders and signs,' which manifest that the kingdom is present in him and attest that he was the promised Messiah. (Acts of the Apostles 2:22) The signs worked by Jesus attest that the Father has sent him. They invite belief in him. To those who turn to him in faith, he grants what they ask. (Mark 5:25-34; 10:52) So miracles strengthen faith in the One who does his Father's works; they bear witness that he is the Son of God. But his miracles can also be occasions for 'offence (Matthew 11:6);' they are not intended to satisfy people's curiosity or desire for magic. Despite his evident miracles, some people reject Jesus; he is even accused of acting by the power of demons. By freeing some individuals from the earthly evils of hunger, injustice, illness and death, Jesus performed messianic signs. Nevertheless, he did not come to abolish all evils here below, but to free men from the gravest slavery, sin, which thwarts them in their vocation as God's sons and causes all forms of human bondage."
 - from the Catechism of the Catholic Church, #547, 548, 549
